

Big River Moda Floor

Big River quality timber flooring products have been milled from the Northern Rivers region of New South Wales for over 100 years and are now part of a managed renewable hardwood plantation.

Fast forward to today.....and the Big River Moda range adds a touch of contemporary chic, helping you create the perfect mood for every room through a range of rich contemporary colours. This means an economical alternative to on-site staining and without the mess and odours, as each board is coated at the factory to deliver an even colour and consistent finish.

The Big River Moda range remains stable through a range of harsh climatic conditions, making it ideal for most residential and commercial applications, being engineered from five cross-ply layers of hardwood sheets bonded together to form a solid, stable floorboard.

The UltraCote matt finish has a low 20% reflectivity to enhance the grain of the timber.
